

Meltdown* (black line master included--cvc words)
(cvc words) (black line master included--special cards)

Print one set of snowman cards (with words) and one set of "special cards". Cut all cards apart and place in a can. To play, pass the can. Students take turns drawing a card and reading the word. If they get it right, they may keep it. The can moves to the next person even if the player gets it right. If a player gets a "blizzard" card, he can take a snowman card from another player (plus keep the "blizzard" card). Game continues until someone gets a "meltdown" card (melted snowman). Then everyone counts his or her cards. The person with the most is the winner.

This is played exactly like Rotten Bananas and Crazy Carrots
